About the Transparency Awards

The Transparency Awards are based on a methodology defined by an independent scientific committee, guaranteeing the neutrality and fairness of the rankings. This methodology is certified by Bureau Veritas. The main items evaluated are the Universal Registration Document, the General Meeting Brochure, and the Investor & Shareholder portal, assessed against criteria based on five pillars: accessibility, precision, comparability, availability, and clarity.

Each year, the Transparency Awards evaluate more than 450 disclosure documents issued by companies listed on the SBF 120 index, using a rigorous methodology based on more than 350 objective criteria. Today, they serve as the benchmark for corporate transparency among French companies.
